THE EDITORIAL TEAM

Prof. Warade Hrushikesh
Editor in chief

Putting this college newsletter together was a real marathon collecting reports from every department, chasing photos, verifying names and dates, and shaping countless drafts into one clear story. We wanted every voice heard and every achievement recorded.

This issue brings together the full picture of our campus: features of the college and its facilities, NSS activities, cultural and sports events, guest lectures, workshops, and every programme conducted through the year. We dedicate this work to the spirit of our institution and hope it lives up to our college motto. If this edition informs, inspires, and unites us, the struggle was worth it.
